Antimicrobial Stewardship Pharmacist

Ellis Medicine is a 438-bed community and teaching healthcare system serving New York’s Capital Region. With four campuses – Ellis Hospital, McClellan Street Health Center, Bellevue Woman’s Center and Medical Center of Clifton Park – five additional service locations, more than 3,300 employees and more than 700 members of our medical staff, Ellis Medicine is proud to provide a lifetime of care for patients. Ellis offers an extensive array of inpatient and outpatient services – including cardiac, cancer, emergency, neuroscience and women’s services.

We’re seeking an experienced Antimicrobial Stewardship Pharmacist who will share our commitment to quality and passion for improving healthcare.

The Antimicrobial Stewardship Pharmacist is a resource dedicated to overseeing and enhancing the quality of antimicrobial use institution wide through nationally recognized stewardship activities. This individual will work collaboratively with infectious disease medical staff, infection control practitioners, pharmacists and other healthcare workers who have active roles in the oversight of antimicrobial use. The Antimicrobial Stewardship Pharmacist will serve as the Stewardship Committee coordinator and primary resource for all related activities.

Requirements Include:

- Bachelor of Pharmacy or Doctor of Pharmacy (Pharm.D.) degree (preferred but not required) from an accredited college of pharmacy.
- Must be licensed to practice pharmacy in New York State or must be eligible for New York State licensure.
- Ideally he/she should have completed a clinical pharmacy residency, fellowship or obtained equivalent experience in the area of infectious diseases or antimicrobial stewardship activities.
- At least two years of clinical experience and/or completion of PGY1 and PGY2 residency in infectious diseases are desired but not required.
- In lieu of a PGY2 residency in infectious diseases, completion of an Antimicrobial Stewardship Certification Program is also desirable.
